Temperatures Over 100 Deg. In Hot Spell

The most torrid heat spell in many years and one of the most damaging was broken by showers over the weekend after the eastern and central sections of the nation sweltered for 10 days and temperatures here on Wednesday, Sept. 2 soared to over 100 degrees.

During the hot and arid period which began Aug. 28 Andover experienced several days in which temperatures reached 95 and 96 degrees. The real blistering day came Sept. 2 when thermometer readings here were above 100 during the mid-day hours while in Shawsheen Village temperatures of 104 were recorded.

Schools Set Record For First Day Attendance

The annual back-to-school trek began here yesterday when the public and parochial schools opened their doors to receive their new classes for the 1953-54 season.

The attendance figures for the opening day compared with those of a year ago were as follows:

	1953	1952
Punchard . . .	354	360
Junior high . .	376	381
Central	714	653
Shawsheen . .	312	282
West Center .	250	216
Bradlee	136	151
Total	2142	2043

The attendance at St. Augustine's school yesterday morning was 425, an increase of four over a year ago. This figure is expected to be increased within a few days.

The combined enrollment of pupils on the opening day was the largest in the history of the town.

While there was a slight decrease in the opening day attendance in the high and junior high schools as compared with the opening day a year ago this number, it is expected, will increase within the next 10 days as more (Continued on Page Seven)

Complaints charging him with drunkenness, operating to endanger and refusing to stop when signalled by a police officer in uniform, of which he was also found guilty, were filed.

In connection with the same case Joseph L. Keefe, 21, of Lawrence, had charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and drunkenness placed on file. Also filed was a drunkenness complaint against a third defendant, Paul Sesilets, 18, of Lawrence.

The three defendants were arrested at 12:30 a.m., Friday, Aug. 28, in Lawrence after a chase in which pursuing police fired two shots.

was the worst in 20 years with losses estimated as high as several hundred million dollars. Numerous deaths during this period were attributed to the heat.

A slight break was noted here Thursday after a series of severe electrical storms caused considerable damage to trees and wires in and about Boston. The storm avoided this section.

Temperatures started climbing again on Friday and Old Sol was still pouring it on Saturday when the mercury started climbing into the 90's.

Showers last Sunday and again Monday, in which only .25 of an inch were recorded, were accompanied by a cool northwest wind which brought comforting relief.

The temperature at 6 a.m. yesterday was 42, just 10 degrees above freezing.

Abbot's 125th Year To Open Sept. 23

With the opening of the 1953-54 session Sept. 23, Abbot academy arrives at another significant milestone as it sets out on the 125th year of its career as a secondary school for girls.

Incoming students will arrive Tuesday, Sept. 22, and will be received with their parents by Miss Marguerite Hearsey, principal, assisted by Miss Alice Sweeney, director of studies and other members of the faculty.

Day scholars will meet with Miss Hearsey at 10 a.m., Sept. 23 in Abbot Hall and during the day returning boarding students will register.

The first chapel service will take place at 9 a.m., Thursday. The regular schedule of classes will begin Friday. On Saturday the entire school will have its annual picnic at Ipswich Beach, and on Saturday evening the Abbot Christian association will sponsor a gala New Girl-Old Girl party in Davis Hall.

The student body will represent twenty states, far and near, and the District of Columbia, as well as more distant points including the Canal Zone, Alaska, Cuba, and the Philippine Islands.

The school will greatly miss the presence as well as the services of Miss Hope Baynes, who for many years held the post of financial secretary. Miss Baynes has retired from office and is now residing with her sister, Miss Hilda Baynes, a former teacher of French at Abbot academy, in St. Petersburg, Fla.

New members of the faculty are: Miss Ann Horner, a graduate of Vassar college who holds an M. A. degree from Radcliffe and who will teach English; Miss Jean Johnson, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, who holds a M. A. degree from the University of Hawaii, where she recently taught, who will also join the English department; Miss Elizabeth Pratt, a graduate of Smith college, who holds a M. A. degree in the field of history from Columbia university and who will divide her time between the History department and administrative duties.

Mrs. Rita Ashworth of Methuen and Miss Edith Massey of North Andover have recently joined the staff in the financial office assisting Gardner Sutton, business manager of the school. Miss Alice Blake of Andover is to be a new member of the secretarial staff in the main office.

There never had been any argument about it: Julius was the wisest and shrewdest man in town. One day a youth of the community questioned him on the subject.

"Julius," he said, "to what would you attribute the fact that you know so much?"

"Good judgment," replied Julius readily. "I'd say it was my good judgment."

"And where did you get your good judgment?"

"That I got from experience."

"Where did you get your experience?"

"From my bad judgment."

BAHA'IS TO OPEN LECTURE SERIES

Mrs. Harold J. Wilson of Lincoln circle is chairman of the committee which is presenting a series of free public lectures for the Baha'is of New England for nine consecutive Sunday afternoons at 3:30 o'clock in the Community church, Howard and Allston sts., Lawrence. The series will open Sept. 13. William DeFarge of New York City will tell what the New Order is, its founders and principles. Mr. DeFarge is an accredited observer to the United Nations for the Baha'is.

"Where's The Fire?"

There are a number of people in town who make it a practice to call the central fire station as soon as an alarm sounds to ask "Where's the fire?"

This curiosity on the part of such individuals ties up the telephone at the fire house for many minutes and often interferes with the efficient operation of the department in a time of emergency.

At the time of the recent barn fire in West Andover the deputy who reached the scene immediately radioed back to call Lawrence for additional help. So many phone calls were coming in on the line, however, that the officer at the fire house was delayed several minutes before getting his call through.

It so happened in this case, that a West Andover resident had called the Lawrence department and a piece of apparatus was on the way to the fire by the time the man on duty could get his call through.

Fire officials say that a similar condition exists on stormy days when they are besieged with calls from 6:30 a.m. until 8 o'clock to learn if there is to be school that day.

Many who make these calls hardly realize how they tie up the fire department line when it is most needed.

Restrain that curiosity. Give the firemen a break. Do not call the department unless you have an excellent reason for doing so.

The Right To Be Let Alone

The meaning of few words has been so perverted as that fine old term "liberalism."

To many people "liberalism" has come to mean more and more laws designed to miraculously cure this or that trouble; more and more politically-inspired "security" measures; more and more government direction of and meddling with our lives.

In the light of that, something written in 1928 by Supreme Court Justice Brandeis, who holds a high place as a liberal thinker, deserves reprinting. He said: "The makers of our constitution... sought to protect Americans in their beliefs, their thoughts, their emotions and their sensations. They conferred, as against the government, the right to be let alone—the most comprehensive of rights and the right most valued by civilized men."

Since history began, that has been the attitude of real liberal. It is the only attitude which can perpetuate the freedoms men won through centuries of bloody conflicts and incredible sacrifices.

Transfer arrangements on the B & N line most unsatisfactory as many Andover patrons are stuck with an extra 5-cent fare from Salem. Most conductors will not issue transfers from Wilson's Corner to Andover square, although if passenger is persistent the transfer can be obtained.

A correspondent describes in three columns the pleasures of a trolley trip to Worcester. Left Andover square at 6:32 a.m., for Reading and changed cars for trip through Wakefield, Melrose, Malden and Chelsea to Scollay square, Boston. Walked across town to Park square and took trolley at 9:06 a.m. for ride through aristocratic Brookline to Chestnut Hill. After 10-minute wait boarded airline car for high speed trip through historic towns and villages to Worcester and reached Worcester in just 2 hours and 35 minutes from Boston. Started return trip at 2:18 p.m. and landed safely in Andover square at 8:20 p.m. Round trip with through ticket from Boston to Worcester, $1.10.

NEW BOOKS

Not yet back in the swing after the summer and its lazy days? Then you'll probably enjoy one of these:

Thirteen White Tulips, Crane; Deadlock, Fenison; The Scarlet Letters, Queen; Case File: F.B.I., Gordon; or, if you don't care for mysteries but do enjoy fiction books, try one of this group: Battle Cry, Uris; Beyond This Place, Cronin; Wait for Marcy, DuJardin; Class Ring, DuJardin; Freedom's Way, McCormick; Gigi and other stories, Colette; The Retreat, Newby; 7½ Cents, Bissell; Heather Mary, Scott; The Enchanted Land, Myers; Gunman, Joscelyn; Caravan To Xanadu, a novel of Marco Polo, Marshall; Dixie Nurse, Ford; The Dart Players, Tickell; The Dancing Heart, Rosenheim.

But if you have a feeling that a little substance is in order, the library has added these for your pleasure:

The Complete Madison, Madison.

Important ideas of the principal author of the constitution and fourth president of the United States are organized here to form a logical whole. The book will prove to the reader that today's problems accidentally thrown and killed. He was owner of the Andover Steam Laundry and treasurer of the W. H. Welch Co.

Tall Timber Pilots, Place.

Bob Johnson started the flying service in Missoula, Mont., in 1924 with one plane and small equipment. The adventures that went along with the opening of the hazardous business are almost unbelievable.

Foreign Policy Without Fear, Dean.

A clearly presented picture of the aims of our foreign policy and an examination of a long-term plan if world relationships are to be satisfactory. Among other things, Vera Dean sets forth the areas in which the United States can establish a policy to seize the initiative from Russia and keep it.

Little Leaguers To Hold Outing

Players and families of the Andover Cardinals and Yankees in the Little League will hold an outing at Sid White's grove on Lowell st., Sunday, Sept. 13, beginning at 2 p.m. It is requested that all those going will meet at the parking space in the rear of the high school at 1:30 p.m. to go in a body.

Several presentations will be included in the program arranged for the afternoon. All 12-year olds on both teams will receive reversible jackets, gifts of the Boosters' club. Members of the Yankees will receive individual baseball trophies as runners-up in the Suburban Little League championship. Members of both teams will also receive official league emblems to wear on their coats.

Early reports indicate that about 130 will attend.

SCHOOLS SET RECORD FOR ATTENDANCE

students will return to school

The big increase in attendance, however, comes in the Central, Shawsheen and West Parish schools where the number is well ahead of that of last year. These figures, too, are expected to show an increase within the next two weeks.

One of the new features to be introduced in the public schools this year is the schooltime accident policy which students may obtain at $1 each a year.

The plan protects the student during the entire school year for injuries received:

- while traveling directly to or from school;
- while attending school during the hours and on the days when school is in session, including coverage for intramural sports, gym and other physical education activities; and
- while participating in school-sponsored and supervised activities either away from school premises or after school hours (except injuries received while participating in inter-school athletics).

The policy does not pay (1) medical expenses, death and dismemberment for injuries sustained as a result of the practice and play of inter-school sports (2) injuries caused by war or act of war (3) treatment by any person employed or retained by the school.

Parents will receive blanks for application of this insurance plan.

OPEN CHRISTIAN RELIGION CLASSES

cil of Churches, and the Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., of St. Augustine's church, "more and more parents are recognizing today the great importance of religious education for their children. They know that the ideals and beliefs of young people cannot be rightly formed without knowledge of God and an understanding of the truths and insights that are contained in the Bible and form the foundation of our religion."

Enrollment for the courses last year was double the enrollment of the year before. It is expected that an even larger number of parents will request permission for their children to attend classes this year.

Police Seek Youth In Girl Assault

Local police are investigating with state police and Cambridge authorities the story of a 13-year-old Cambridge girl that she was taken by an 18-year-old Somerville ice cream vendor to a camp at Foster's pond last week and assaulted.

She was found wandering about Cambridge in a dazed condition and taken to police where she told her story. She said the youth stopped the ice cream truck and invited her for a ride. She said he took the truck to a garage and the pair went to Winchester where she said he stole a car and drove to the local pond. She said he broke into three cottages and they finally stopped in one of them.

Police said that the cottages were the same three the youth had broken into before. A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

SLIGHT FIRE

Clothing in a drying machine at the Purity Cleansers & Dyers on Essex street caught fire Tuesday noon but was extinguished by the proprietor with a hand extinguisher before doing much damage. Box 58 was sounded at 12:05 p.m. Fire officials believe that sparks from a piece of metal or matches in the clothing caused the blaze.

Red Cross Notes

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be at the South church in Andover on Oct. 5 and 6 from 1 to 7 p.m. Every one who can possibly donate blood is urged to do so at this time because the supply is very low. The disasters this summer have caused a heavy drain on the blood collection centers in this area.

The blood recruitment drive will be held from Sept. 17 to 28. Mrs. Charles B. M. Whiteside is residential recruitment chairman and Mrs. Roland H. Sherman is in charge of registration. They will be assisted by Mrs. Alden S. Cook and Mrs. Harold A. Johnson. There will be a meeting of all volunteer workers on the blood drive at 10 a.m. on Sept. 17 at the Memorial Hall library.

Registrations are being accepted by the local Red Cross chapter for courses in home nursing this fall. Classes meet seven times for a two-hour period. Any one interested in signing up for a course should call Red Cross headquarters at 1496.

Society owes no man a living, but does owe him a chance.

KESSLAK - GOFF

At a 3 o'clock ceremony Sunday in St. Augustine's church, Miss Eleanor Marie Goff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Goff of River st., became the bride of George Michael Kesslak, USN, son of Mrs. Mary and the late Anthony E. Kesslak of Johnstown, Pa. The Rev. Austin J. Goff, O.F.M., of St. Francis Friary, Brookline, uncle of the bride, officiated.

Escorted by her father, the bride chose a gown of ivory Skinner satin and chantilly lace fashioned with illusion neckline, fitted basque bodice and a full skirt ending in a circular train. Her fingertip veil of chantilly lace was attached to coronet of pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli and carnations centered with an orchid and streamers of baby's breath.

The bridal attendants included Mrs. William C. Long of North Wilmington, sister of the bride, as matron of honor; Joan and Elizabeth Kesslak, sisters of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids; Catherine Goff, another sister of the bride, and Kathleen Long of North Wilmington, niece of the bride, as junior bridesmaids. Sandra Fowler of Billerica served as flower girl. They wore ballerina length gowns of nylon tulle over taffeta with jackets and matching caps. William C. Long, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer. The matron of honor and flower girl were in orchid and the bridesmaids in yellow and pink. All carried old fashioned nosegays.

Joseph DeRocco, USN, of Medford, was the best man and William C. Long, USN, of North Wilmington and Joseph Durkin, USN, were the ushers.

A reception in Silver Lake Betterment hall, Wilmington, followed the ceremony with many out of town guests present.

Following a wedding trip to New Hampshire and Canada the couple will reside in Stoneham.

The bride is a graduate of Pun-chard high school and is a laboratory technician with Sylvania in Ipswich. The bridegroom attended Pennsylvania schools and is serving with the navy.

Nation Observes Another Holiday

America observed another holiday over the past week-end with a list of accidents that accounted for 574 deaths. This Labor day toll showed that 405 died as the result of traffic accidents, 70 lives were lost by drowning and other accidents were responsible for 99. This was somewhat less than the highest Labor day toll when in 1951 there were 658 deaths from all accidents.

CLEANLINESS FIGHTS POLIO

POLIO CAN ENTER THE BODY THROUGH THE MOUTH OR nose, so that the face and hands are obvious danger spots. Before your child eats anything—even an ice-cream cone or a sandwich-and-milk snack—see that his hands have been scrubbed to spotless cleanliness.

Place soap and a brush at every available wash-up spot in the house and make sure he uses them frequently. It's the best kind of insurance against the tiny virus that can cause so much harm to young lives.

The best measures against polio, during warm weather when the danger is greatest, are to keep children from getting overtired or chilled, to keep them away from new groups, and to keep them clean.

This advice from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis makes good sense. Over-fatigue and chills lower resistance—an obvious come-on to disease. New groups of people from other localities bring added danger of infection. And since any virus thrives on dirt, extra attention to cleanliness is a wise precaution.

Most people are very thankful that the "good old days" exist in memory and not in fact.

Good hygiene, based on soap-and-water cleanliness, is a major protection against polio, according to the experts. Since the virus can enter the body through the mouth, children should be taught to always scrub their hands before eating.

A FEW weeks ago an official in one department of the civil service made an inquiry about a certain case to a subordinate official in another section, who allowed the matter to slide.

Later, the first official addressed a complaint to the subordinate's superior, and the superior passed on the minute to his subordinate with the query: "Has nothing been done?"

The minute was returned marked "Yes," and was sent back to the subordinate with a laconic "What?" "Nothing," was the subordinate's comment on the minute.

"Junior is just allowed to practice during the commercials."

Fined For Peeping
In Andover Home

James G. Barclay, 40, of North Andover, was fined $15 on a charge of peeping when arraigned in District court at Lawrence Tuesday and $5 on a drunkenness charge. He pleaded not guilty to both.

Following a complaint the defendant was taken into custody at his home Monday by Patrolman Raymond Collins of the local police. Patrolman Robert Deymond testified he talked to the defendant at the police station and the latter told him he went to Andover shortly after midnight after leaving a drinking establishment in Lawrence. He said he drove to the vicinity of the home of William L. Schneider of Phillips st., where he saw a light and that the liquor he had taken gave him the urge to do some peeping.
